Kalaburagi (Gulbarga) city is a Divisional Head Quarter. The city has famous tourist attractions like Sharabaseshwara temple, Khwaja Bande Nawaz Darga, Buddha Vihar, Bahamani Fort, Brahmakumari University. Hyderabad is nearest tourist spot and airport facility. Pleasant climatic conditions during October.

About the College:

Government College, Kalaburagi is one of the oldest and leading institutions of higher learning in the educationally backward Hyderabad-Karnataka region. The Government College was started in the year 1932 as an intermediate college affiliated to Osmania University, Hyderabad in the erstwhile Nizam Government. Later with formation of new state of Karnataka in the year 1952 it was upgraded to Degree College affiliated to Karnataka University, Dharwad. In the beginning BA, B. Sc. Programme was offered in various disciplines including languages. In the subsequent years many PG courses were started and at present 14 PG courses, like Commerce, Mathematics, Microbiology, Physics, Zoology and Computer Science. Present strength of the college is more than 3000. The college has been recognized as research centre by Gulbarga University. The college is situated in the heart of Kalaburagi city with campus area of 11.03 acres. Assessing the institution NAAC, has Re-Accredited with "A" Grade.

About the Workshop:

Search for knowledge or any systematic exploration to institute facts is "Research". It is about searching systematically for elucidations of problems. No matter what scientific methodology is used, the variables under investigation must always be measured in some way or another, and measurement generates numbers - or data - often much more data than we can manually interpret. As a result, statistical tools have been devised to help the researcher summarize and interpret raw data. Statistical procedures not only provide a way of summarizing data into quick and manageable information, but they also help the researcher make decisions about whether relationships between two or more variables, are actually related or not. Statistical methods are playing an ever increasing role in framing suitable policies in a large number of diverse fields covering natural, physical, social sciences and day-to-day business activities. Statistics today have become indispensable in all fields of human endeavour. To address challenges and opportunities in the field of research, the most popular Statistical software products, have enabled academicians and researchers to evaluate information from the data.

This workshop is designed for researchers and faculties. The research methodology course for all discipline research students is to cover the basics of research methodology focusing on theoretical and practical inputs. Specifically the formulation of research problem, formulation of research hypothesis and testing of hypothesis, conducting literature review, data collection methods, selection of appropriate parametric or non-parametric statistical method for analyzing data, and report writing.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WORKSHOP

- To enable the participants, define research problem, developing an approach to research problem and selection of suitable research design.
- To encourage the participant to share and clarify the problems they face and resolve them by constructive feedback.
- To comprehend appropriateness of statistical software packages for analysing research data.
- To enable the participants to write a research proposal, articles and scientific reports.
- To bring awareness among the participants about current research trends in all disciplines.
