ICSME 2022 ONLINE

First International Conference on advancements in Science, Management & Engineering

Theme of the Conference
Science, Technology, Engineering & Management

About Nrupathunga University (NU)

Nrupathunga University (NU) established in the year 2020 by the Government of Karnataka, got evolved as Unitary University benefitting richly from the centenarian legacy of the Government Science College (Autonomous), Bengaluru. The University envisions 'Reaching the Unreached' through its proactive commitment to provide inclusiveness, accessibility and excellence in Higher Education. It has benchmarked itself by leapfrogging into the future of education through National Education Policy –NEP. In addition to establishing its singular position by being one of the first to implement NEP-2020, the institution also aspires to facilitate quality education by creating global ecosystems of education. It is a distinguished institution comprising of eight schools that collaborate together to drive innovation in the fields of Science and seven Post Graduation (PG) departments with research centres managed and run by a team of dedicated, committed faculty with an ideal blend of youth and experience, of which 70 have doctoral degrees to their credit.

About Department of Physics

The department of Physics was established in the year 1921 in the GSC. It has a rich legacy of producing erudite scholars both at UG and PG levels. There are 18 teaching staff, out of which, 13 are doctorates and remaining are pursuing the same. The research center of the department started its functioning since 2015 and has good number of research scholars and produced more than 100 research papers in both National and International journals.

About ICSME – 2022 Conference

Academic research is a type of Systematic analysis of a problem or situation with the intention of discovering thoughts and evidence that will benefit in fixing the challenges or investigating the situation. Novel research can have a significant impact on academia, the economy and society by contributing to capacity building: technical and personal skill development. First International Conference on advancements in Science, Management & Engineering (ICSME - 2022) is to bring together Scientists, Academicians and Research Scholars from around the world to encourage, acknowledge and support research in all these areas by providing an opportunity for them to exchange and share their experiences, fresh concepts, research findings and discuss the pragmatic challenges encountered and solutions adopted in the aforementioned inter disciplinary areas through a wide range of research activities and publications.

About RSP Research Hub

Founded in 2021 in India, RSP Research Hub (Unit of RSP Science Hub) organizes conferences in association with the Universities, Institutes and also publishes papers through an open access International Research Journal on Advanced Science Hub (IRJASH) Journal (e-ISSN 2582-4376) which enables Researchers, Engineers, Scientists, UG/PG students, Research Scholars and Industry experts around the world to improve the status of existing R & D operations in every aspects and get phenomenal growth in the latest developments in the technology. The headquarter of RSP Science Hub is located in Coimbatore, India. RSP Team has successfully organized 22 e-International Conferences. The Conference Hub's goal is to expand and incorporate the knowledge base, innovation, spread awareness of the extraordinary research work and improvise respective participants career prospects.
